Hi! I'm Minako Aino and I'm so happy. The Sailor Guardians are so popular that video games have been created. Also a musical concert is going to take place this weekend in Tokyo! I've got a ticket and can't wait to see it. In the meantime, I'm going to try out all the video games at the Game Center Crown arcade.

There are lots of them but they're all fighting games. That's cool but I'd also have liked a dating simulator, an RPG, even a horror-survival game! Nevertheless, I really enjoy playing the games. Of course, I always use Sailor Venus as my character.

The day of the musical has finally arrived. I keep looking at the time on my watch. Artemis thinks I'm behaving "too crazily." That's his problem, not mine!

Hours have passed. I'm in the auditorium and the musical begins. When I see Anza Ohyama, Ayako Morino, Hiroko Nakayama, Kanoko and Nana Suzuki all together on stage, I hold back my screams of joy and excitement. When the musical is over, I'm among those who applaud the loudest.

I went home even happier. Next time I'll invite my friends.
